Bonn, March 2. We are informed from Eyenem, a Village about two Miles Diſtance from Ober-Olm, that the Shock of an Earthquake had been felt there on the 9th of February, at Ten at Night, but we do not as yet hear of any Damage having been done by it. And from Ober-Olm we have received the following very extraordinary Relation of an Event which happened in that Diſtrict, between the 10th and 14th of February, when a Vineyard, 500 Paces long, and from 75 to 100 broad, was removed from an Eminence into the Valley below, and by the Force of its Fall raiſed the adjoining Plain, with the Trees growing on it, in ſeveral Places, to the Height of twenty Feet; and that the Earth continued in Motion when the Letters came away. The Damage could not be at that Time aſcertained; but there were at leaſt 15 Acres of Vineyard ruined, each of which is computed to be worth 160 Florins. The Road which goes through the Vineyard is ſo filled up, that it will take above a Month to make it paſſable. The Ground where the Vineyard was is now entirely a Bed of Clay. This extraordinary Event is ſuppoſed to have been cauſed partly by the ſubterranean Waters, and partly by thoſe which deſcend in great Quantities from the Mountain Klopberg; and probably the great Rains which have fallen for ſeveral Years paſt have contributed to it.
